About the Institute and College

Barshi Shikshan Prasarak Mandal, Barshi was established in 1954 to spread the education in and outside Barshi. Sanstha is a pioneer academic institution which has glorious history of more than seven decades. The main mission of the Mandal is to nurture, promote and encourage the value-based education. Mandal has been catering to the educational, economic, social, psychological, cultural, and professional needs of the society with its motto "सा विद्या या विमुक्तये" i.e. knowledge which enlightens us and education which liberates us from this materialistic world. Keeping in pace with need of the time to provide quality education to all, Mandal offers education from K.G. to P.G. covering streams of Arts, Science, Management and Technical Education. Today thousands of students strive to seek admission in institutes run by our Mandal on account of values ingrained in the mission of the Mandal.

REPORT

Introduction:

On 24-02-2024, a One Day University Level Workshop was conducted to discuss the revised syllabus of BA II year English subject. The workshop aimed to bring together faculty members, curriculum developers, and other stakeholders to review and provide feedback on the updated syllabus.

Objectives:

1. To increase awareness among students the newer aspects of the English subject.
2. To have discussion on current trends in the English subject and changes adapted in the syllabus accordingly.

Participants:

The workshop saw active participation from faculty members of English departments and the students from various colleges.

Proceedings:

The workshop commenced with Dr. Samadhan Mane, Professor at the Department of English, Karmveer Bhaurao Patil Mahavidyalaya, Pandharpur, outlining the Syllabus of English Compulsory for both semesters. He provided an in-depth analysis of its components.

The second session featured an inaugural address by Dr. Deepak Nanware, Professor and Head of the Department of English at DAV Velankar Commerce College, Solapur. He emphasized the importance of updating the syllabus to cater to the evolving needs of students and the demands of the contemporary world. Hon'ble Varshatai Thombare, Treasurer of BSP Mandal, Barshi, presided over the session, underscoring the significance of English in today's scenario.

In the third session, Dr. Sachin Londhe, Associate Professor at KN Bhise Arts, Commerce, and Vinayakrao Patil Science College, Kurduwadi, discussed the syllabus of British Literature. Dr. Anupam Pol, Professor at the same institution, covered the syllabus of Introduction to Language. Both experts highlighted the key changes and additions in the revised syllabus.

The final session focused on the syllabus of the paper entitled Indian Writing in English, led by Dr. Manohar Joshi, Professor at Walchand College of Arts and Science, Solapur. He delved into the syllabus components such as poetry, novels, and drama prescribed for both semesters.

Throughout the workshop, participants actively engaged with the speakers during tea breaks, sharing insights, concerns, and suggestions for improvement.

The workshop concluded with a summary of key takeaways and actionable insights garnered from the sessions.

The One Day University Level Workshop on the Revised Syllabus of BA II English provided a valuable platform for stakeholders to deliberate on the changes and enhancements in the curriculum. The feedback and recommendations gathered will inform further revisions and ensure that the syllabus meets the needs of students and aligns with current educational standards.
